 NOTES :

* Admiral Ragnar Colvin resided at 192 Wellington Parade in 1939 .

* Engineer Charles Ruwolt and his wife resided at 192 Wellington Parade between 1939 and 1945 .... very probably connected to “Vickers Ruwolt” heavy engineering works in Richmond, which would have been in around the clock full scale production throughout the war years.

* Also, there was a well established tool manufacturing company nearby to Vicars Ruwolt and in the vicinity of the Yarrra River, Richmond .... “J.W.Handley”, I think it’s name.

In approximately the early 1960's, "J.W. Handley" was sold or taken over by an American company and renamed "Turner Manufacturing'.

J. W. Handley" had been involved in wartime manufacturing, as was Vickers Ruwolt.
I wonder if Edgar Handley, Manufacturer, residing at 192 Wellington Parade in 1945 was connected to the family company in Richmond ?
